Dear Applicant,

The Graduate School of System Design and Management, founded on the 150th anniversary of Keio University, is Japan's first full-scale educational and research institution set up to produce graduates able to create new systems that fuse engineering with the social sciences. The purpose of the Graduate School is to support sustained development in the international community and set in motion new trends for the 21st century. Recent years have seen the emergence of serious incidents, scandals, and other social phenomena that hint at the fraying of modern society's enormous and complex systems. In overcoming these problems and designing technical systems that are safe, secure, and harmonious with society, we need to use both approaches based on engineering concepts to compose secure design by looking at things as systems and approaches based on social science concepts to accurately ascertain trends in the international community and markets, flexibly consider diverse senses of values and new organizational formats and create new sustainable social systems.

By implementing "Design Projects" that devise concrete systems, the Graduate School endeavors to offer a comprehensive curriculum for training systems designers capable of innovative system design and project leaders capable of management that incorporates complex processes in order to satisfy the needs of companies that develop and operate aerospace equipment, large-scale plants, and automobile manufacturing as well as those in the energy, biotechnology, robotics, information and communications, media industries, socio-critical systems, and disaster countermeasure systems. To this end, the Graduate School opens its doors widely, not just to new university graduates, but also to working adults from government organizations and companies in Japan and overseas. Accordingly, we have created a flexible system for administering entrance examinations. Our "Program for Career Professionals" even allow students to enroll while still employed. We have also enabled students in the Master's Program to select a flexible course curriculum in order to meet the specific needs of people from a diversity of backgrounds. The Graduate School has increased the number of classes conducted in English to provide an opportunity to obtain a degree in English.

Please ensure that you have a clear understanding of the concepts and approaches of the Graduate School when applying for admission. We'll be looking forward to applying from those who try to improve their skills, aim to become systems designers and project's leaders in the future.

Admissions policy

For the master's programs, we admit both persons aspiring to conduct research and put into practice the design and engineering of innovative technological systems that will contribute to resolving many of the large-scale and complex issues of the modern day, and those aspiring to research on and implement the leadership and management required to propose solutions to issues in the diverse social systems of today and guide these projects to success. In order to foster personnel befitting of these degrees, we admit people from many walks of life, including persons advancing to graduate school directly after completing their bachelor degrees and those with hands-on experience (early career/seasoned professionals) at organizations in the public, private, and other sectors. Screenings are conducted to comprehensively assess whether candidates have sufficient aptitude, skillsets, and desire to actively study alongside students from diverse backgrounds and put what they learn to practical use in the real world.

For the doctoral programs, we admit both persons aspiring to support various fields as researchers and social practitioners through advanced academic research on the design and engineering of innovative technological systems that will contribute to resolving many of the large-scale and complex issues of the modern day, and those aspiring to contribute to various fields as researchers and social practitioners through proposing solutions to issues in the diverse social systems of today and advanced academic research on the leadership and management to guide these projects to success. In order to foster personnel befitting of these degrees, we admit people from a wide range of spheres across generations, including persons with hands-on experience in the public and private sectors (early career/seasoned professionals) as well as students who have completed a master's degree program. Screenings are conducted to comprehensively assess whether candidates possess academic and research capabilities equivalent to those required for the master's program, the initiative to plan and conduct research, and sufficient aptitude, skillsets, and desire to put what they learn to practical use in society as specialists, in addition to whether they have made the preparations necessary to pursue their research after admission.

Section 1 Master's Program

Major Discipline and Admission Quota

Major Discipline	Master's Program
System Design and Management	77 persons

* These are the total quotas for applicants to be admitted in April and September each year by all courses.

Admissions System

The Keio University Graduate School of System Design and Management offers two separate courses for master's students. The Research-Intensive Course is so named as it puts somewhat greater emphasis on research rather than course work. It is suitable for new graduates as well as professionals who seek to gain research experience. The Learning-Intensive Course is so named as it puts somewhat greater emphasis on course work rather than research. At present, the Learning-Intensive Course is available only for those who speak, read and write Japanese with absolutely no difficulty. It is recommended for professionals who already have expertise from their careers and three or more years of work experience. The admission system for each course is as follows.

Research-Intensive Course

[General Admissions]

This admissions program is for students/graduates of Japanese or foreign universities as well as working adults with less than three years of work experience.

[Admissions for Career Professionals]

This admissions program is for applicants who at matriculation will have three years or more actual work experience at companies or government organizations in Japan or overseas following their graduation from undergraduate or graduate school.

Learning-Intensive Course

[Admissions for Career Professionals]

This admissions program is for applicants with a sufficient specialty and at matriculation will have three years or more actual work experience at companies or government organizations in Japan or overseas following their graduation from undergraduate or graduate school.

*Students can also be enrolled in either course while remaining employed at these companies/organizations.

*Please refer to our website for details.

Admissions Process

[1] Prior Consultation

Graduate School of System Design and Management provides education and advanced researches in the field of the design and management of technological and social systems from diverse and cross-discipline perspectives.

Applicants seeking admission to the Master's Program must, with no exception, contact the prospective supervising professors whom they wish to have as research advisor(s), and discuss their intended research and educational content well in advance. The failure to comply with the aforementioned contact rule might work in disfavor of the applicant. To contact your desired research advisor(s), enter the following information in the "Pre-Contact Form" at the URL below: 1) name(s) of desired advisor(s), 2) program applied for, 3) applicant's name, 4) affiliation, 5) education (last school or institution), 6) e-mail address, and 7) details of proposed research.

Pre-contact Form: <https://wwwdc01.adst.keio.ac.jp/kj/sdm/precontact-en.html>

Please see the following URL for information on the faculty members in the Graduate School of System Design and Management. <http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/faculty/index.html>

A short conversation at a Keio SDM briefing session with a large number of people is not considered as prior consultation.

*Note that you cannot contact SDM supervising professors after the deadline of the application period.

[2] Web Entry

(2) Submission of documents for admission procedures and method of mailing

Upload the data for all of your application documents to the Web Entry System. You also need to send the originals for the application documents separately by post to the address indicated below.

Admissions Office of the Graduate School of System Design and Management, Keio University
4-1-1 Hiyoshi, Kohoku-ku, Yokohama, Kanagawa 223-8526 JAPAN

- 1) Application may not be submitted in person at the Admissions Office.
- 2) All documents sent within Japan must be sent by "simple registered express mail" or "recorded express mail" and all documents sent from outside Japan must be sent by traceable and express mail service such as FedEx/DHL. We cannot respond to any query on delivery status of application.
- 3) All documents must be postmarked by the deadline date. Applications postmarked after the deadline will not be considered.
- 4) Make sure to write your examinee number and "SDM Admissions" on the envelope.

(3) Application fee 35,000 JPY (Japanese Yen)

[Applicants submitting applications from within Japan]

- 1) Download the payment slip from the following website and remit the application fee at the counter of financial institution.

<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/admission/documents.html>

Note that remittances cannot be made from post offices. Do not remit the application fee via an ATM as this method makes it difficult to confirm the remitter's identity. Bank transfer fee is at your expense.

- 2) Ensure that you receive the remittance receipt and the Certificate of Remittance (振込金受付証明書) when remitting the application fee. Attach the Certificate of Remittance on a downloaded mount for remittance form and submit it with other applications. Make sure that the Certificate of Remittance has a cashier's stamp from the financial institution. Applicants must save the remittance receipt.

[Applicants submitting applications from outside Japan]

- 1) Application fee is payable by credit card. After web entry has been done, access to the website below, click "Payment by Credit Card", and make a payment procedure. When credit card payment is completed, print out the screen and submit it with other application documents.

<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/admission/documents.html>

- 2) If you do not have a credit card, please purchase an international Postal Money Order (payment location: Tokyo; currency: Yen) for the stipulated amount (the service fees should be paid at your end). Enter "Graduate School of System Design and Management, Keio University" for the name of the recipient and "2-15-45, Mita, Minato-ku, Tokyo" for the recipient address. Note that this address is different from the address where the Admissions Office of Graduate School of System Design and Management is located.

- 3) Yen-denominated international Postal Money Orders may not be available in some countries or regions. Applicants residing in these countries/regions should purchase international Postal Money Orders denominated in US dollars. Ensure that the money order is made out for the equivalent amount of the application fee in accordance with that day's over-the-counter customer exchange rate. Consult the Admission Office if Postal Money Orders denominated in US dollars are not obtainable.

- 4) Use a demand draft or remittance check to pay the fee if the international Postal Money Order is not available. If the demand draft is not available in Japanese currency, use one issued in US dollars. Ensure that the demand draft is made out for the equivalent amount of the application fee in accordance with the day's over-the-counter customer exchange rate. Consult the Admission Office if the demand draft denominated in US dollars is not obtainable. Personal Checks are not acceptable.

- 5) Western Union is used for remittances from one individual to another. Because the university is unable to cash funds remitted by this method, we ask that you do NOT use Western Union to remit the application fee.

[About Refund of Application Fee]

Paid application fee will not be refunded except for following reasons.

- 1) Have paid the application fee, but did not send the application documents
- 2) Have paid the application fees twice by mistake.
- 3) Have paid the application fee, but the application documents were not accepted by SDM

Applicants who apply to 1) or 2) above must inform SDM Admissions Office (E-mail: sdm@info.keio.ac.jp) by the day of announcement on result of first screening of each application period with following information.

- Full name of the applicant
- Examinee number
- Contact information (phone number, E-mail Address)

SDM Admissions Office will then inform the applicant with necessary documents to complete the refund procedure by e-mail. If the request of refund is accepted, the application fee will be refunded to applicants' indicated bank account.

The refund will be transferred to a bank account within Japan; however, if bank account in Japan is not available, it will be remitted through a bank account in the outside of Japan. In this case, please note that the remittance charge and other fees will be paid at applicants' end.

(4) Points to note when submitting applications

- 1) Check the accuracy of all materials before mailing. Incomplete applications will not be processed. Delayed applications will not be processed. Application materials should not be replaced.
- 2) Data input in Web Entry System can be revised after the first registration. The application materials sent within the application period are regarded as official. Check that the final version is mailed.
- 3) Be advised that Keio University reserves the right to make inquiries about the validity of submitted documents to the appropriate authorities.
- 4) Should the information provided in the application documents being factually incorrect or should other improprieties be discovered in the documents submitted, the applicant will be deemed ineligible for the entrance examination and enrollment.
- 5) Submitted documents will not be returned.
- 6) Applicants requiring special assistance when taking examinations or attending classes due to physical disabilities should contact the Admissions Office of Graduate School of System Design and Management at least one month prior to the deadline of each application period.
- 7) Other points to note when submitting applications will be posted on the Graduate School's website from time to time. Ensure that you check the website before submitting your application.

[4] First Screening

The First Screening will entail a screening of application documents.

[5] Announcement of Results of the First Screening

The results of the First Screening will be announced on the website of the Graduate School of System Design and Management. Results will all be displayed by examinee number. The schedule and assembly time for the Second Screening will be announced on the same day. Inquiries regarding the screening results will not be accepted.

[6] Second Screening

The applicants who have passed the first document-based screening should undergo the second and final screening that comprises, for each individual applicant, both a face-to-face interview and an essay writing. They are both aimed at examining the applicant's knowledge on systems, design and management, and her/his ability to address the issue in question in ways that are both logical, and are from broad, birds'-eye perspectives.

For both the interview and the essay writing, those seeking to enter the school from the second semester that begins in September could choose English, should they wish to make English her/his working language. Those wishing to enter in April must choose Japanese. The choice of language between the two makes no difference in selecting the entrants.*

Applicants who have come later than the designated assembly time should be considered absent and would not be allowed to take the second screening.

Both the interview and the essay writing will be held on-line, via such video communication means as WebEx, Zoom, or Skype. The school takes absolutely no responsibility as regards the quality, or the lack thereof, of the video transmissions between the school and the applicant. Voice-only communication, if it is the maximum quality achievable, makes the applicant automatically ineligible. The quality of visual communication is vital not only for the face-to-face interview but also for the essay-writing in order for appropriate anti-plagiarism supervision to be provided throughout the duration of the time for the writing.

More technically:

1. Prepare a web camera, a headphone, a microphone, and broadband internet environment. Speakers must stay turned off;
2. You (the examinee) must be alone by yourself in the room, connected with no one outside, throughout the examination.
3. A date will be set prior to the examination so that the applicant can check whether the online system/connection works properly. For the second screening, you must use the same room used for this advance check. Should you wish to use a different room for a specifiable reason, contact the Admissions Office of the Graduate School of System Design and Management well in advance of the second screening.

More details of the second screening are to be provided to those who have successfully passed the first screening. Note, also, that Japanese calendar and Japan Standard Time will be used throughout.

*Language Proficiency Screening

You must provide the school with verification as regards your academic linguistic proficiency of either English or Japanese, if your native language is neither one of the above.

[7] Announcement of Results of the Second Screening

The results of the Second Screening will be announced on the website of the Graduate School of System Design and Management. Results will all be displayed by examinee number. Inquiries regarding the screening results will not be accepted.

Admissions Process

[1] Creation of Research Plan

Applicants seeking admission to the Doctoral Program are required to submit a written research plan when they submit their applications. Applicants should therefore give themselves plenty of time to consult desired research supervisor(s) about research plan prior to applying. Students can have more than two supervisors in SDM. To contact your desired research supervisor(s), enter the following information in the contact form found at the URL below: 1) name(s) of desired advisor(s), 2) program applied for, 3) applicant's name, 4) affiliation, 5) education (last school or institution), 6) e-mail address, 7) and details of proposed research.

<https://www.wdc01.adst.keio.ac.jp/kj/sdm/precontact-en.html>

See the following URL for information on the faculty members in the Graduate School of System Design and Management.

<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/faculty/index.html>

Ask faculty members whether they are qualified to supervise a doctoral student. A short conversation at Keio SDM briefing session with a large number of people is not considered as prior consultation.

*Please note that you cannot contact SDM supervising professors after the deadline of the application period.

[2] Web Entry

Applicants enter necessary information, receive their examinee number, submit (upload) the required items, and print out the documents "Application Form" and "Photograph Mount" with Web Entry System.

For detailed information on how to prepare the electronic files, please refer to "Online Application Submission Instruction Addendum" at the SDM website.

Access the following URL for Web Entry System for registration:

<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/admission/guidelines.html>

(2) Submission of documents for admission procedures and method of mailing

Upload the data for all of your application documents to the Web Entry System. You also need to send the originals for the application documents separately by post to the address indicated below.

Admissions Office of the Graduate School of System Design and Management, Keio University
4-1-1 Hiyoshi, Kohoku-ku, Yokohama, Kanagawa 223-8526 JAPAN

- 1) Application may not be submitted in person at the Admissions Office.
- 2) All documents sent within Japan must be sent by "simple registered express mail" or "recorded express mail" and all documents sent from outside Japan must be sent by traceable and express mail service such as FedEx/DHL. We cannot respond to any query on delivery status of application.
- 3) All documents must be postmarked by the deadline date. Applications postmarked after the deadline will not be considered.
- 4) Make sure to write your examinee number and "SDM Admissions" on the envelope.

- (3) Application fee 35,000 JPY (Japanese Yen)

[Applicants submitting applications from within Japan]

- (1) Download the payment slip from the following website and remit the application fee at the counter of a financial institution.
<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/admission/documents.html>
- (2) Note that remittances cannot be made from post offices. Do not remit the application fee via an ATM as this method makes it difficult to confirm the remitter's identity. Bank transfer fee is at your expense.
- (3) Ensure that you receive the remittance receipt and the Certificate of Remittance (振込金受付証明書) when remitting the application fee. Attach the Certificate of Remittance on a downloaded mount for remittance form and submit it with other applications. Make sure that the Certificate of Remittance has a cashier's stamp from the financial institution. Applicants must keep the remittance receipt.

[Applicants submitting applications from outside Japan]

- (1) Application fee is payable by credit card. After web entry has been done, access to the website below, click "Payment by Credit Card", and make a payment procedure. When credit card payment is completed, print out the screen and submit it with other application documents.
<http://www.sdm.keio.ac.jp/en/admission/documents.html>
- (2) If you do not have a credit card, please purchase an international Postal Money Order (payment location: Tokyo; currency: Yen) for the stipulated amount (the service fees should be paid at your end). Please enter "Graduate School of System Design and Management, Keio University" for the name of the recipient and "2-15-45, Mita, Minato-ku, Tokyo" for the recipient address. Please note that this address is different from the address where the Admissions Office of Graduate School of System Design and Management is located.
- (3) Yen-denominated international Postal Money Orders may not be available in some countries or regions. Applicants residing in these countries/regions should purchase international Postal Money Orders denominated in US dollars. Ensure that the money order is made out for the equivalent amount of the application fee in accordance with that day's over-the-counter customer exchange rate. Consult the Admission Office if Postal Money Orders denominated in US dollars are not obtainable.
- (4) Use a demand draft or remittance check to pay the fee if the international Postal Money Order is not available. If the demand draft is not available in Japanese currency, use one issued in US dollars. Ensure that the demand draft is made out for the equivalent amount of the application fee in accordance with the day's over-the-counter customer exchange rate. Consult the Admission Office if Postal Money Orders denominated in US dollars are not obtainable. Personal Checks are not acceptable.
- (5) Western Union is used for remittances from one individual to another. Because the university is unable to cash funds remitted by this method, we ask that you do NOT use Western Union to remit the application fee.

[About Refund of Application Fee]

Paid application fee will not be refunded except for following reasons.

- 1) Have paid the application fee, but did not send the application documents
- 2) Have paid the application fees twice by mistake.
- 3) Have paid the application fee, but the application documents were not accepted by SDM

Applicants who apply to (1) or (2) above must inform SDM Admissions Office (E-mail: sdm@info.keio.ac.jp) by the day of announcement on result of first screening of each application period with following information.

- Full name of the applicant
- Examinee number
- Contact information (phone number, E-mail Address)

SDM Admissions Office will then inform the applicant with necessary documents to complete the refund procedure by e-mail. If the request of refund is accepted, the application fee will be refunded to applicants' indicated bank account.

The refund will be transferred to a bank account within Japan; however, if bank account in Japan is not available, it will be remitted through a bank account in the outside of Japan. In this case, note that the remittance charge and other fees will be paid at applicants' end.

(4) Points to note when submitting applications

- 1) Check the accuracy of all materials before mailing. Incomplete applications will not be processed. Delayed applications will not be processed. Application materials should not be replaced.
- 2) Data input in Web Entry System can be revised after the first registration. The application materials sent within the application period are regarded as official. Please check that the final version is mailed.

- 3) Be advised that Keio University reserves the right to make inquiries about the validity of submitted documents or letters of recommendation to the appropriate authorities.
- 4) Should the information provided in the application documents being factually incorrect or should other improprieties be discovered in the documents submitted, the applicant will be deemed ineligible for the entrance examination and enrollment.
- 5) Submitted documents will not be returned.
- 6) Applicants requiring special assistance when taking examinations or attending classes due to physical disabilities should contact the Admissions Office of Graduate School of System Design and Management at least one month prior to the deadline of each application period.
- 7) Other points to note when submitting applications will be posted on the Graduate School's website from time to time. Please ensure that you check the website before submitting your application.

[4] First Screening

The First Screening will entail a screening of application documents.

[5] Announcement of Results of the First Screening

The results of the First Screening will be announced on the website of the Graduate School of System Design and Management. Results will all be displayed by examinee number. The schedule and assembly time for the Second Screening will be announced on the same day. Inquiries regarding the screening results will not be accepted.

[6] Second Screening

For the Second Screening, we will give oral examinations to the applicants successfully passing the First Screening. Oral examinations will see how the examinees can put the given questions into a logical as well as broader perspective, with a focus on the extent in which the examinees understand "systems", "design", and "management". Applicants may select either Japanese or English as the language to be used in the examinations; this choice will have no impact on the results of the Second Screening.

Applicants who arrive later than the designated assembly time are considered absent and will not be allowed to take the examinations.

The oral examinations will be held on-line, via such video communication means as WebEx, Zoom, or Skype.

More technically:

1. Prepare a web camera, a headphone, a microphone, and broadband internet environment. Speakers must stay turned off;
2. You (the examinee) must be alone by yourself in the room, connected with no one outside, throughout the examination.
3. A date will be set prior to the examination so that the applicant can check whether the online system/connection works properly. For the second screening, you must use the same room used for this advance check. Should you wish to use a different room for a specifiable reason, contact the Admissions Office of the Graduate School of System Design and Management well in advance of the second screening.

More details of the second screening are to be provided to those who have successfully passed the first screening. Note, also, that Japanese calendar and Japan Standard Time will be used throughout.

Language Proficiency Screening

You must provide the school with verification as regards your academic linguistic proficiency of either English or Japanese, if your native language is neither one of the above.

[7] Announcement of Results of the Second Screening

The results of the Second Screening will be announced on the website of the Graduate School of System Design and Management. Results will all be displayed by examinee number. Inquiries regarding the screening results will not be accepted.

Section 4 Scholarships (Master's and Doctoral)

The Graduate School scholarship program includes funding provided by the Keio University Graduate School Scholarship Fund, the Japan Student Services Organization Scholarship Fund, designated donation scholarship funds, and other scholarship funds. The “Scholarship Guide (For Graduate Students)” is available in Japanese, and printed copies will be given to students upon request. Students may inquire at the Admissions Office of Graduate School of System Design and Management (E-mail: sdm-admission@adst.keio.ac.jp)

Keio Graduate School Scholarship is available for self supporting master's and doctoral students. The duration of the scholarship is one year and students can apply every year. The scholarship is paid in the monthly amount determined for that school year. (The amount is subject to change each year. For reference, the monthly stipend for usual years was 150,000 Yen/month and additional 300,000 Yen/month for master's students and 100,000 Yen/month for doctoral students are paid for student with outstanding academic results.)

International students obtain the status of residence; “college student” are eligible to apply for scholarships to the International Center through Admissions office of graduate school of System Design and Management. Please refer to the website below about Keio University Scholarships for International Students Overview:

http://www.ic.keio.ac.jp/en/life/scholarship/intl_student.html

Section 5 Fund and Contributions (Master's and Doctoral)

School Bonds and Education Promotion Funds

While both are optional, many choose to cooperate as both are used to further enhance Keio University's educational activities. Keio University will send detailed information upon admission.

A) Education Promotion Fund (contribution)

- 30,000 Yen per unit (your cooperation in donating two or more units would be appreciated)

B) Keio University Fund (school bond)

- 100,000 Yen per unit (your cooperation in donating three or more units would be appreciated)

- Amounts paid to the school bonds will be returned without interest after graduation or course completion, withdrawal of school

Supporting Fukuzawa Fund and Koizumi Fund

Fukuzawa Fund, named after Yukichi Fukuzawa, the founder of Keio University, was established in 1961. Having academic advancement and development of competitive scholars as the basic principles, this fund provides extensive support to the research/educational activities carried out by academicians at Keio University.

Established in 1967, Koizumi fund honors the achievements and contributions made by Shinzo Koizumi, the 7th president of Keio University, who is also widely known as the tutor of His Majesty the Emperor Emeritus. The fund supports such various educational programs as scholarships, athletic activities, and overseas studies, targeting students enrolled in Keio at all levels. We welcome donations of any amount and any frequency to both/either of these funds for the further advancement of educational and research activities at Keio University. Detailed information shall be sent to you after entering the university.

Section 6 Security Export Controls (Master's and Doctoral)

To ensure that the content of education and research for international students does not interfere with the maintenance of international peace and security, Keio University maintains security export controls based on the Foreign Exchange and Foreign Trade Act. Under these controls, the university confirms in advance whether the permission of the Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry is required before exporting/transferring goods and technologies outside Japan, or before providing international students and researchers in Japan with access to those technologies. As a result, students may be required to change the desired contents of their academic or research activities. Please consult with the faculty member(s) whom you wish to have as research advisor(s) before submitting your application.

*For details on security export controls, please refer to the website of the Ministry of Economy, Trade and Industry.
